

Where to get the source code?

Written by Administrator

Wednesday, 17 February 2010 17:26 - Last revised Wednesday, 12 June 2013

As you know Switchfin is GPL licensed. We are using SVN repository to keep the source code. If you would like to browse the repository please take a look at <http://switchfin.svn.sourceforge.net/viewvc/switchfin/>

In order to get the the source code you need to have SVN client. You can use text base SVN client or GUI based like TortoiseSVN

To get a copy of the trunk version of Switchfin you can execute

```
svn co http://svn.code.sf.net/p/switchfin/code/switchfin/trunk/ switchfin
```

If you need a release version you can execute something like this:

```
svn co http://svn.code.sf.net/p/switchfin/code/switchfin/tags/br4-ui2.15/ switchfin-ui2.15
```

If you have difficulties obtaining the code you can always ask in the Switchfin forum

Have fun!